The Locomotive Firemen Will Probably Go Out Today.

Several Outrages Committed by Strikers on Men at Work.

nd Trunk Switchmen Threaten to Ex tend the Strike Into the Do Eastern Trade Beginning to Suffer Severely.

By relegrant to the 7tmes.
BUFFALO, Aug. 19.—[By the Associated Press.] Unless new complications develop before morning in the switchmen's strike, by the results of the efforts of the railroads tomorrow shall be judged the railroads tomorrow shall be judged the status of the strike. The com-panies claim that they have sufficient men to operate the roads if proper pro-tection is given them. Two thousand troops were ordered out, but they were claimed not to be sufficient, and 6000 more were ordered and are here. Their more were ordered and are here. Their assignment to duty at all points where the companies feel there might be danger, has been going forward today, and tonight every command assigned to duty. Careful inquiry demonstrates beyond doubt that the companies have sufficient men to man the roads. To be sure, the strikers say that the men being held in readiness are restrained from their liberty, also that the men were hired to work on the western roads and did not know they were expected to work on the tied-up roads in Buffalo. If these allegations are true the men may desert upon the first opportunity. It is not deemed probable, however, that such defections would constitute more than a small minority of those now awaiting work. The Lake Shore road has enough men in its yards tonight to man the usual number of switching engines. The Erie today moved five trains and has in its quarters more than the number of men usually employed.

The second feature of the strike is what can and will be the next stroke of the leaders against the railway inter-

The second feature of the strike is what can and will be the next stroke of the leaders against the railway interests. The conviction is that efforts are being strongly pushed toward a withdrawal from work of the firemen or trainmen or both.

Master Workman Sweeney this evening made an attempt to secure arbitration of the differences. He addressed letters to affected roads, reciting the history of the case and offering to submit the cause of the strikers to arbitration. The Erle responded that the matter would be referred to headquarters. The Lake Shore disputed the allegations in Sweeney's letter and the Central sharply declined arbitration, as did the Reading before.

THE SITUATION SUMMARIZED.

THE SITUATION SUMMARIZED. Briefly the situation is as follows: Briefly the situation is as follows:

"The only trunk line uninterruptedly carrying freight eastward is the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. One of the western trunk lines from this city, the Lake Shore, is clogged and the Grand Trunk of Canada is threatened with a strike. The Michigan Central, the other trunk feeder westward, is involved like the Lake Shore in the furtunes of the Central, and the only success of tomorrow's efforts of the roads to move freight freely is now to be relied upon for the eastward carry-brought strongly to light. Into position of the Lackawanna is just as thoroughly appreciated by the strike leaders, as by any others, and the importance of what the men upon that line will conclude to do as to sympathetic strike is beyond cavil.

Master Workman Sweeney this evening received a deputation of Grand Lodge men of Pennsylvania. The audience lasted nearly an hour and it is impossible to learn what transpired.
Third Vice-president Webb, of the Central, said tonight that so far as his road was concerned, the strike was entirely over. The only troubles reported during the day were when Yardmaster Barrett tried to bring a string of freights to East Buffalo under protection of troops. He was stoned, but not seriously injured. No arrests were made and the soldiers did not open fire.

ASSAULTED BY STRIKERS.

ASSAULTED BY STRIKERS. Tonight Switchman Bowen, of the Lake Shore, was on top of a car when striking switchmen climbed up and attacked him. Bowen drove the strikers, off, however, after receiving a severe cut on the head. Later when Bowen had occasion to quit the train, he was attacked again and received several cuts around the head. He was taken to a dining car and an ambulance sent for. When Bowen started for the ambulance, he was struck in the face by a striker who was subsequently arrested. Tonight Switchman Bowen, of the

A secret meeting of five local lodges of firemen was held tonight. About 250 men were in attendance, representing all lodges in the city, as well as the different roads. The trainmen and conductors' brotherhoods were represented by delegates. As a result of the meeting, it can now be said that it is almost certain that the locomotive firemen on the Lehigh, Erle, Lake Shore, West Shore and Central roads, will go out between 6 o'clock tomorrow evening and Sunday morning. This was the unanimous decision, as the men were found to be in favor of declaring a strike on the roads named. Many urged that a strike be ordered at once. They were held back by the more conservative, and the matter was referred, by telegraph, to Grand Master Sargent at Terre Hante. It is expected Sargent will leave Terre Haute early tomorrow, arriving here at night. The strike will be sympathetic, but if the men are given the hours system the firemen insist it shall apply to them also. About 300 men will be ordered out if the strike comes. The men say it is now or never with the cause of organized labor on all railroads. FIREMEN MAY GO OUT.

upon the sheriff today for the purpose of protesting against the great expense of holding militia here, when, in their opinion, there is absointely no need for it. The spotesman stated that they came to ask that the National Guard be removed, unless the sheriff could find some way of footing the bill other than by calling on the taxpayers. A committee of the strikers likewise called upon the mayor to present their case. The sheriff was sent for and the committee said they wished the recall of the troops. Some time was apent in arguing, during which railroad corporations were loudly denounced. The men saked that the officials appoint a time when they would give a decided answer as a whether or not the troops would be wittdrawn. The advisability of calling a special meeting of the board of augartisors to take action in the matter of the retention of the troops is being considered, and there is every prospect that the meeting will be called. The county supervisors are protesting vigorously against the expenditure of any more money.

It now appears that the railroad telegraphers are in close accord with the other erganizations and may take a hand in the light. Freight was moving slowly in all the affected yards today. A delegation of atrikers called on the sheriff this morning and remonstrated with him for calling out the troops away they will guarantee that no violence will take place. Some yards are so glutted with freight that even passenger trains cannot get to the depot, and passengers thad to alight some distance out andwalk in.

This afternoon the Lehigh and Erie began a resumption of their freight traffe. The Lake Shore has men and is walting mith they know that absolute protection is at hand before clearing the yards. Work will be commenced in dead earnest tomorrow. It is clear that while the soldiers are here the roads will be the to resume and continue freight business.

MONE HOTTON FRANED.

The Eris Company paid off yesterday and the Lehigh and Lackawanna paid their employes today. Officials are apprehensive that if a contest is to come it may fairly be expected tonight. The reasoning is that with money in their pockets the men, or at least a portion of them, will soon have liquor in their stomachs. The soldiers was been to the Chicago, Aug. 19.—Secretary Sims-rott, of the Switchmen's Union, re-ceived a telegram today from Grand Master Sweeney, saying that if the railroad succeeded in moving trains in the East he would order out all men on this end of the lines, but only as a last trai this marning to send switchmen to Buffalo to take the places of strikers, but the conductor refused to take the train out wish the men on board. So the men were taken to a hotel. Any further attempt would doubtless have resulted in a strike here.

When an attempt was made to send the men on another train, a body of switchmen waited on the yardmaster and informed him that they would not handle the train if the switchmen who were being sent to Buffalo were on it. The men have since been sent over another road.

Effects in New York.
New York, Aug. 10.—The effect of New York, Aug. 19.—The effect of the railroad strike on the wheels of business down town is becoming more marked every day. Banks are beginning to be affected and if the strike continues much longer they will probably take take some concerted action to meet all cases that have so far arisen. The falling off of grain shipments to an extent of 70 or 80 per cent. over the roads involved in the strike is also having increased effect on the business of the exchanges, and by reason of the decrease of exports it also threatens to affect the rates of foreign exports.

Chief Arthur Summoned.

Tonosto, Aug. 19.—Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was called to Buffalo by telegraph this morning, owing to the possibility of the engineers becoming involved in the switchmen's strike.

ELMIRA (N.Y.,) Aug. 19.—Sixty-five men were brought to Sayre this morning and put to work. After working several hours they quit, saying they would not take strikers' places.

Trouble Expected on the Big Four.
St. Louis, Ang. 19.—An echo of the switchmen's strike from New York has eached St. Louis, and the switchmen in the Big Four yards are uneasy. The Big Four is the only one of the Vander-bilt lines reaching St. Louis. One of the switchmen told an Associated Press reporter this evening that the men are all ready to go out as soon as the word is given, and will the up every eastern road entering St. Louis.

Sy relegraph to the times.

Sacramento, Ang. 19.—[By the Associated Press.] A number of interior papers have recently contained articles intimating that Gov. Markham is likely to become a formidable candidate for United States Senator. A Bee reporter interviewed the Governor on the subject and he declared that he is not and under the Constitution cannot be a candidate for United States Senator. If there were no constitu-tional prohibition the Governor said he would have no aspirations in that dissection. He proposes, he says, to retire to private life at the expiration of his present term of office. Continuing the Governor said: "The people elected me Governor, and I shall certainly serve out my term, if I live.

On turning a corner they were met by a mob which took him to the hotel and demanded that he sign an order to his lieutenant for the surrender of the stockade and fort. Though threatened with hanging he refused to sign and asked only that he be shot and his grave be marked so that his family could find it.

Desultory firing lasted all of the night before last. The miners claim that they killed five soldiers and silenced a howitzer. It was silent, but probably to save ammunition.

Another story of yesterday's fight as Coal Creek is to the effect that twelve miners were killed and twenty wounded. The attack by the miners was made by 8000 men against 150. A return of the fire was ordered by Gen. Anderson and a blaze from every side of the fort belched out. Some were killed outright and many wounded. At the stockade they stopped and the men clambered over the walls to release the convicts. Doors and entrances were thrown open and the miners were at last in possession. They began to order the convicts to leave and had them all captured when Gen. Anderson assembled all his soldlers at the side the miners were on and moving a howitzer to that side began bombarding them. The miners stopped in their work of releasing the convicts and turned to get out of the way of this heavy fusilade. Again and again their leaders begged them to fight, but they rushed down the hill to escape the furious onslaught of the soldlers. With never a 'halt and never a rally they reached down the hill to escape the furious onslaught of the soldlers. With never a 'halt and never a rally they wounded miners with them. They harried far out of sight and reached their gans. They then collected their shattered and wounded in more than half a hundred were wounded and more than half a hundred reported.

American Missionaries in Asia Minor in Danger.

Washington, Aug. 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The Secretary of State today received a cablegram from the United States Bharge d' Affairs at Constantinople informing him that the house of Dr. Bartlett, American missionary at Bourdour, province of Konia, Asia Minor, and the lives of the missionaries therein, are in danger. He believes that if prompt action is not taken the missionary cause and the lives of the missionaries will be in se-lives of the missionaries will be in serious danger in other places.

The building of Dr. Bartlett's residence was originally stopped by the local authorities. Permission to complete the same was refused unless Dr. Bartlett would furnish a bond or guarantee neither to hold religious worship nor instruct children on the premises. The legation applied to the Sublime Porte for such permission, claiming that treaty rights of Americans extend not only to the purchase of land, but to the enjoyment of the same. The permit was finally granted by the Sultan, and it appears that immediately after the receipt of the permit by the local authorities the house was set on fire.

Ivies and pinks should not be stimulated with guano or anything of the sort, but lime water is very beneficial to both. Powdered charcoal is the very best fertilizer to use about roses, and when freely used will cause the flowers to mature when they would otherwise blast in the bnd. Stimulate callas by giving them an abundance of stable manure and plenty of water. Fatten Hogs Early.

[American Cultivator.]

The old plan of starving a hog the first eight, ten or fifteen months of its life, and then putting it up and feeding heavily with corn, has gone out of fashion. A pig should be growing thriftily all its life. If never allowed to starve, it will have better digestion, so that by the time cord-feeding begins its digestive organs will be equal to the task. There is great virtue, too, in a mixed diet for pigs. They will eat most vegetables better and digest them better if vegetables are cooked. In this way, too, grain can be added to the vegetables and be cooked with them, thus making the change of feed less sudden.

at Yesterday's Meeting.
Yesterday the Board of Public Works

On the petition from Thomas Edwards three regular meetings have been held. There are 163 active and twelve honorary members. Mrs. Hutton, the president, followed with her annual address, reviewing the work of the new departments; the flower missson and the parliamentary drill, and suggesting plans for future work. She advocated the organization of a social purity department, the forming of a committee the visit the jail and poor-house, more attention to social affairs—in fact, more aggressive, active work. She suggested the forming of a city union from delegates of the several unions already in existence and the appointment of a Finance Committee, which should devise literal things.

mendations, to be submitted to the Council Monday:

On the petition from Thomas Edwards et al., for Council to order the grade established on Council street, between Belmont avenue and Union avenue, we recommend that the City Engineer present a proposed grade and ordinance of intention.

Recommend that the communication from I. M. Hellman (estate of pet al., relating to the failure of the Los Angeles Electric Railway Company to refund to them the amount paid for paving between car tracks on Los Angeles street, be referred to the City Attorney.

In the matter of the proposals to grade, gravel, curb, etc., Los Angeles street from the south line of Seventh street to the north line of Twenty-third street, we recommend the acceptance of the bid of D. F. Donegan as follows, to wit: Graveling and grading, $2.10 per lineal foot; curb, 48 cents per lineal foot; sewer, eight inch pipe, $1.10, ten inch pipe, $1.30 per lineal foot; manholes, $90 each, flush tanks, $115 each; lamp holes, $15 each; sidewalk, 16 cents per square toot, and that the necessary resolution of award be adopted.

In the matter of the communication from William Nicol complaining about the condition in which Hawkins street has been left by the Consolidated Electric Railway Company, we recommend that the Street Superintendent be instructed to notify said company to place said street in as good condition as it was before being torn up by said company.

On the Protest from J. Sentons et al., Finance Committee, which should devise literal things.

A solo by Miss Thayer, a young girl with a sweet, pure voice, was a pleasing interlude between speeches.

Two honorary members, Messrs. F.

M. Porter and L. A. Ross, were then called to the front to lend their voices to the occasion. M. Porter and L. A. Ross, were then called to the front to lend their voices to the occasion.

Mr. Porter discussed, in a five-minute speech, the relations between honorary and active members of the union. He drew a contrast between the way a woman keeps a promise and the way a man does, with the odds largely in favor of the woman's integrity of purpose. He called attention to the two resolutions passed at the recent General Conference of the Methodist Church, one being that no Christian could consistently support any party not in actual hostility to the liquor traffic. This resolution was followed by another to the effect that no Christian should be committed to any political party. He then referred to editors of religious journals, who, through the columns of their papers, are excusing the acting upon the first resolution because of the second, on the grounds that the two conflict.

Mr. Ross followed in a somewhat lengthy speech, in which he referred in scathing terms to the actions of church members in official positions, who permitted the licensing of saloons without a single protest, and declared that the fault lies in the church when Christian men (so-called) sit dumbly by and allow such things without a dissenting voice.

After another solo by Mr. Moore the convention closed. on the protest from J. Sentous et al., against the improvement of Girard street we recommend that the same be denied, as it does not represent one-half the frontage involved.

Plans for the Santa Fe's New Depot Sent East.

The Authority to Begin Work is Expected Soon.

The Southern Pacific and Its San Pedro Water Front.

Brisk Mevement of Green Proits Eastward. A Missing Hailroad Man Heard (B. From—Local and Fersence).

Two sets of plans for the Santa Feompany's new passenger depot in Los Angeles have been sent East for selection and approval by the directors a land administrative officials. These plans were prepared here and embody the features deemed most desirable for the company's needs. One plan is for a graceful wooden structure, the central portion of which will be two stories in height, the wings on each side being within an arcade running the length of the features deemed most desirable for the Pedro, involving the interests of that city, the Southern Pacific and the Terminal roads. As is known by those who have ever visited that region, a citizen of San Pedro has been doing a good business running a ferry across the bay from the city to Terminal Island. This ferry line consists of a roomy flat-bottomed row boat, propelled by the muscular ferryman, and since the Terminal road was opened up to the island the boat has done a good business, especially on Sundays and holidays. The ferry landing on the San Pedro side is on the dock property of the Southern Pacific, as it could not well be anywhere else, that company possessing the entire water front. That company, noting the growing business of the ferry and the accommodations if offers to the patrons of the rival Terminal line, has taken steps to curtail it. The ferryman was informed that he could use the landing hereafter only on a yearly lease, which could be canceled at five days' notice. The ferryman agreed to a lease, but wanted it for five years. This the company would not listen to and proceeded to build a high fence to cut off all access to the ferry. This action aroused the citizens of San Pedro, who were thus deprived of the privilege of going over to their only bathing beach, and they have already begun to retailate. The city will endeavor to condemn a right-of-way for a street across the Southern Pacific's tracks and wharf to the water's edge as the only means of permitting citizens to reach the ferry. It is thought that this strife which has been stirred up afresh will result in much bitterness.

SAN DIEGO.

The Artistic Albertus and His Adventurous Marrying Racket.

An Inside Story of the Affair-How the Little Sawed-off Sucker Pursued the Widow-Other

About a year ago a gentleman and his wife arrived at San Diego from the East and occupied a house at the corner of Eleventh and K streets. The gentle-man, Mr. Lathain, was well advanced in years and in feeble health. His wife was young and of prepossing appearance, and was very devoted to him, while he seemed to adore his fair young consort. But her loving ministrations consort. But her loving ministrations failed to arrest the onward march of death, and about six or seven months ago the wife of a year became a widow. Mr. Lathain left her a legacy which has been variously estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000, but which it is learned from a reliable source amounts to several times that. Her title to the property is hedged in by certain limitations, but she has entire use of it during her lifetime.

A short time after her husband's death Mrs. Lathian had a call from J. Albertus, well known throughout Southern California as the canvaser of a firm engaged in enlarging pictures. Alern California as the canvaser of a firm engaged in enlarging pictures. Albertus, while taking her order for a picture of her late husband, Iell "desperately in love" with the fair and tearful widow, and resolved then and there to win her. From that time on he pressed his suit on every opportunity. She went back East and he pursued her; wherever she went he followed. Five months after her husband's death she married him. This was five weeks ago. They were then in band's death she married him. This was five weeks ago. They were then in New Mexico. They traveled about together for a month and then she came here, stopping at the Horton and registering as Mrs. Stella Lathain. The lady is said to have felt remorse at being married so soon after her husband's death and consulted a spiritualist medium, who assured her that her first husband's spirit was angry at her. This evidently weighed upon her mind. On Wednesday Mrs. Lathain, in company within an arcade running the length of the building. The other plan is for a brick building of much the same general form, but all one story, the central section to be surmounted by a minaret. The ground plan shows large waiting rooms and conveniently located apartments for the ticket agent, baggage, telegraph, news and lunch stands and all the other accessories of a first-class passenger depot. Either building placed upon the site selected, near the First street bridge, will be an ornament to that portion of the city and a credit to the railroad. Nothing will be done in the matter now unful the Eastern people select a plan and authorize the work to begin. As has been stated before the directors are not yet convinced that they can expend the necessary money for this greatly-desired improvement, but it is confidently hoped that the order will soon be forthcoming to build the depot.

The Turbulence in Tennessee

The State of Tennessee is now reap ing something of the whirlwind which we predicted several months ago in discussing the nerveless, shilly-shally course adopted by the authorities in dealing with the rioting coal miners.

At that time the miners resorted to violence, as they are doing now; they farmed out to mining contractors were kept, and turned the prisoners loose. A trouble, surrendered without a show of resistance and the "tin soldiers" were sent home in disgrace. Then the Governor of the State committed the unpardonable folly of conferring and com-promising with the successful revolutionists. He promised them that, is they would submit to the established order of things for a little while, and not do any more mischlef, he would call a special session of the Legislature to repeal the laws allowing the employment of convicts in the coal mines

This quieted things for a little time and not a man of those who had defied

the authority of the State, participat ing in insurrection and destroying property, was arrested or punished in any way.

The Legislature was duly called to gether in special session, but it proved that the Governor, in giving promises as to what it would do, had counted without his host. It refused or failed to repeal the obnoxious laws. Thus matters dragged along and the convic laborers were back in their stockades and back in the mines. There had been bad conduct on the part of the miners and bad faith on the part of the State authorities. No wonder that a truc established on a such flimsy basis failed to hold out. No wonder that the dis turbers who had previously carried things with a high hand and gone un punished for it concluded that it would be the proper caper to raise another in-

We know little as to the rights and wrongs involved in the policy pursued by the State of Tennessee in hiring out its convicts to contractors to work in the mines. They are probably hired out at a low rate of wages, and this so that free miners cannot earn what they should. We know it is customary for convicts in various State peniter tiaries to be employed at something by their maintenance. Sometimes this employment consists of making boots

Traveling on the Desert. Grove A. Johnson, a pioneer who has had an experience of fifteen years or more on the Colorado Desert, gives this advice through the San Francisco Examiner to those who venture upon its arid wastes in summer:

The next thing is the care of water. I used leather bottles, the leather naturally dressed, like buckskin, being the best for the purpose, as it is sufficiently porous to permit of evaporation and thus keeps the contents cool. If the bottles fall they do not break. If obliged to use a canteen cover it with canvas lined with raw wool and thoroughly soak it when filled. The blanket covering is all right if you have sufficient water to keep it wet.

The next consideration is provisions. Take a quart bag and fill it with pinole. This is made of parched corn or wheat,

This is made of parched corn or This is made of parched corn or wheat, ground very fine. Put a pound of sugar in a separate bag and the both to your saddle horn. When thirsty take a pint cup of water, add a tablespoon of sugar and enough of the pinole to thicken it to the consistency of soup.

Never drink water on the desert

Never drink water on the desert except in this way, as it not only acts as a food, but neutralizes the effect of the alkali in the water and the water will go four times as far. The water on the desert is alkali, and taken in its native state only increases thirst.

The remainder of your provisions should consist of tea or coffee and pilot bread. Three or four days before starting cut some fresh beef into strips two or three inches wide and three-quarters of an inch thick. Rub in a very little salt and hang it in the sun to cure.
Take no salt or fat meats of any kind,

Transfer Made to Mr. Perry.

The sale of the Los Angeles Theater has been finally consummated. Negotiations have been pending for some time, and the transaction was virtually completed some days ago, as announced in The Tries, but the papers were not signed until Thursday, in San Francisco. The following Associated Press dispatch, received last evening, gives the details:

hitherto affecting the principal theaters of the Coast.

The Los Angeles Theater, the most modern in Southern California, was sold by Mrs. Juna Neal of New York to W. H. Perry, a lumberman and capitalist of Los Angeles, for $140,000. The purchase price covers the site, which has a frontage of sixty-one feet on Spring street. Mr. Perry stated to a reporter this morning that he proposed to make a few improvements in internal arrangements which would make this theater the most attractive on the Coast. He intends to introduce at once a system of incandescent lights for the illumination of the building. The dreasing rooms will be enlarged and the seating capacity will probably be increased. Mr. Perry says that after putting his building in first-class condition he proposes to lease. H. C. Wyatt has been nominated lesser and realty manager for Mrs. Neal, but this arrangement will be discontinued. It is said that a proposition has been made to Al Hayman that he should lease and run it in connection with his other theaters, and a representative of Mrs. Neal stated that a similar proposal had also been received from H. C. Miner, of the Fifth Avenue, New York.

Dispite the reports started by Demo-cratic papers for campaign purposes;
Mr. Judson asserts that the mining property never was in better condition than it is now. If it is true that the works are not paying expenses, it is strange that so much new machinery is being put in and many other improve-ments made.

Instead of the ore giving out he says that new discoveries have been made, showing that a vast amount of tin is available, the veins which have hitherto been worked developing into greater size as they go down. The works, he says, are producing more tin daily now than ever before, and additional machinery which is being put in will increase the capacity.

The circumstance that the number of men employed was recently reduced is explained by the fact that some new or-saving machinery was put ch did the same amount work with fewer employes. "The capacity of the works is not great enough to reduce in the next five years all the tin ore that is now in sight." said Mr. Judson.

POLITICAL.

The Local Democracy Stirred Up Over the Congressional Convention.

The local Democracy are considerably stirred up over the approaching Congressional convention, which takes place in Santa Barbara on the 24th inst. The convention place in Sasta Barbara on the 24th inst. The convention promises to be a very lively one, and it is not beyond the range of possibilities that it may develop into a first class row. At least a portion of the Democrats favor the indorsement of Cannon, while a majority of the local leaders insist that a straight-out Democrat be nominated, if one can be found to make the race. They say that, while Mr. Shorb is preferred, yet if he does not want it, it should be given to any reputable Democrat who will take it and promise to crat who will take it and promise to make a canvass. The Cannonites, on the other hand, insist that to put a third man in the field will be simply to make the Republican nominee a present of the office. With the support of the Democrats, they say that Cannon can win, and that while, if it were possible to elect a Democrat, they would favor a straight-out nomination they favor a straight-out nomination they do not see the necessity of going to the expense of making a hopeless fight. Cannon, they say, will not overlook his supporters and the chances of getting a share of the loaves and fishes should not be overlooked.

Among another and a strong section of the Democratic party the sentiment is in favor of making no nomination whatever at Santa Barbara, leaving the voters to make their choice on election day. If this is done the result can be foreseen.

One Democrat, who was approached on the subject, stated that his proxy was not in the market and that if he could not attend the convention the proxy would go instructed. On this statement the person suddenly had no use for the proxy and left.

The Cannonites insist that there is some kind of a scheme going on, the nature of which they say they do not know, but profess to think that it is being engineered by the Republicans, and they say they will make a fight on the floor of the convention if they discover any attempt to take advantage of them.

A COVERT SCHEME.

A COVERT SCHEME.

A COVERT SCHEME.

It has been given out in certain quarters, the "inwardness!" of which it is not hard to penetrate, that a movement is on foot among the carpenters of the city to demand from the employers a working day of eight hours. The move is a political one and does not represent the whole body of the working carpenters, but only the horny-handed political mechanics, who haunt the polis and construct platforms in front of beer bars and in the rear of fruit and cigar stores. It is the scheme of these worthies to agitate the eight-hour proposition, get the mechanics excited over their "wrongs," order a strike and then make capital for Cannon out of the affair. That the scheme will fall down is the opinion of the keen ones who are onto it.

il and Recopiusing for Gen Practice—Expense of the General at Camp Butler.

Some of the rough edges previously visible about Camp Anacapa have disappeared, and the Seventh Regiment has settled down to actual military life and work. Capt. T. H. Barry of the First Infantry United States Regulars, who arrived in camp with Adjt. Gen. Allen on Thursday, and who is to instruct the officers and men in various tactical ethics, expresses himself as greatly pleased with the appearance of the camp and the work of the men, particularly in the ceremonies of quanti-monting and in the antiormity of the military point of etiquette in regard to the sainting of officers and colors. The Captain's method of instruction appears to be rather to counsel than command, although backed by ample governmental authority to take full charge of all drill manuevers. As he said yesterday: "I can do more good by plain observation and a few quiet suggestions on important points than by plain observation and a lew quiet suggestions on important points than any other way. I was out this morning before reveille and have been using my eyes ever since I got in camp, with the result of knowing most of the weak points and how to strengthen them." A school for commissioned officers is held each day after dinner at head-quarters and the Captain imparts such instructions as he deems best fitted to the needs of the several companies.

Gen. Allen is still in town, but will leave this evening for Los Angeles, accompanied by Capt. Barry, who is to visit Long Beach and instruct the Ninth Regiment, there encamped, as was stated yesterday. He will probably return the latter part of next week for a couple of days.

Today's field day was postponed on account of some plans of Capt. Barry's to improve the drill of the battalion. Field day will be next Wednesday, and Col. Schreiber, his staff and company officers were out yesterday examining the ground for the exercises, but the selection has not yet been made.

No arrests for drunkenness or other offense have yet been made by the camp guard. For today's detail Capt. L. S. Chappalear, of Co. F, will be officer of the day, and First Lieut. Sutliff, of Co. B, officer of the guard.

AT LONG BEACH.

All Activity at Camp Butler—The Dally Routine—Camp Echoes. All is now activity at Camp Butler. The boys in blue are down to solid work The boys in hine are down to solid work and some very pretty movements may be witnessed if the parade ground is visited between 7:15 and 8:15 a.m., when the various companies are out for their usual "constitutional," denominated by some of the boys as "a short sweat." In order to more correctly judge the capacity and proficiency of the different companies this morning exercise should be witnessed.

verandas of uptown residences by many ladies and gentlemen in morning costume.

Battalian drill did not go off as smoothly yesterday as on the first morning, but, a number of new movements were taken up, and as the new tactics are as yet very new it should not be expected that the commands would be executed as quickly and as correctly as under the old tactics.

Lieut-Col. Butler, for whom the camp is named, arrived yesterday morning, and he expresses himself well pleased with the manner in which the camp is running. The Colonel was warmly welcomed and his kind words of praise appreciated by the entire regiment.

Thursday night the first passes to be absent until after 10 o'clock were issued, and acemingly every man in camp who could rustle up an excuse sufficient to pass him was down town or along the beach having his full quota of fun. But as the hours lengthened and the shades of night grew denser faces were turned toward camp and the frequent voice of the sentinel, "Hall! Who goes there?" was heard on all sides. There was the usual "running the guard," which made it quite lively until after 12 o'clock, when the camp quieted down, the sentinels having but little to break the monotony of their solemn thread until the break of day. At the firm of the cannon ar sunrise both the same of the cannon are surrise for the cannon

The fally routine of the camp is as follows:

First or musicians' call, 5 o'clock a.m.; reveille (roll call.) 5:15; breakfast call, 5:45; fatigue call. 6:15; surgeon's call, 6:45; farst call for drill, school of squad and company, 7; drill call, 7:15; recall, 8:15; first call for guard mount, 8:80; assembly of guard details, 5:45; first call for drill, battalion and regiment, 9:80; assembly, 9:40; adjutant's call, 9:45; recall, 11; inspection of tents, 11:30 dinner call, 12 m.; first sergeant's call, 1 p.m.; first call for parade, 5; assembly, 5:15; adjutant's call, 5:15; supper, 6; retreat, susset; tattoo, 10; taps, 10:80.

The calls are sounded by the musician at headquarters and taken up and repeated by the musicians of the guard.

On Sunday, August 21, the routise will be as follows: First call at 6 o'clock am.; reveille, 6:15; heatfast call, 6:45; fattigue call, 7:18; surgeon's call, 7:45; first call for guard mount, 8:80; assembly for guard details, 8:45; inspection of tents, 9:30; church call 10; dinner, 12 m.

The afternoon routine will be the same as on week days, with the exception of parade, which will be, at 4:80 instead of 5 o'clock.

The greatest interest manifested in the camp by spectators is, of course, in the evening at the hour or dress parade. One thousand or more spectators viewed the parade Thursday and Friday evenings. Many of this large number were ladies, and their presence seemed to stimulate the action—of the "blue sogers" so that their marching was animated, decisive and effective.

The grounds are in much better condition than at Santa Monica last year. There have been but two complaints made. One as to the dust and the other as to their size. Yesterday afternoon the sprinkling wagons came out and sprinkled the whole of the parade grounds, putting it in prime condition. There are no gopher holes or dead vegetation to contend with, and as a result better work is more easily obtained from the regiment.

Dress parade on Sunday will be changed from 5 o'clock p.m. to 4:30 p.m., in order that visitors from Los. Angeles and elsewhere may remain until after this part of the programme before returning to their homes on the usual evening trains.

Maj. Driffell has informed Col. Spileman that he will be present to inspect the regiment on Sunday at 1 o'clock p.m.

Mounting a victous horse, the Colonel started to ride away to the parade ground, when the horse reared, striking the Colonel full in the face with the top of his head, making two ugly looking scars. Two long slips of court-plaster adorned the Colonel's soldierly face the remainder of the day. There is a noticeable absence of ice-water in camp, and as the Long Beach water has not a very good reputation anyway, sufficient grounds are furnished for a considerable amount of good-natured "joshing" among the boys.

FIXING THE BOUNDARY.

The Eastern Line of California to be Established.

About a Hundred Square Miles of Territory to be Added.

A Strip from 100 to 400 Miles to b Taken from Nevada.

ment, and an Appropriation Made for the Purpose—Some of the Mistakes of the Past.

At last the eastern boundary line of California is to be definitely and permanently fixed, and when it is done this State will have gained from Nevada a strip of land a half mile or so wide and strip of land a half mile or so wide and from 100 to 400 miles long, comprising, it is thought, 100 square miles or more of territory. The Sundry Civil Bill recently approved by the President, contained an appropriation of $18,500 for the resurvey of the eastern boundary line of this State southeastward from Lake Tahoe to the Colorado River. This will hot be sufficient to complete the survey, but work will be begun soon and what is done will be final, and the survey will establish this line for all time.

As this State is about to acquire such a big shaving of mountain, valley and desert, including a fine strip of the Carson Valley, and have its elusive boundson Valley, and have its cluster bound-ary line finally tied to a row of iron posts 406 miles long, the story of that line is of present interest. According to law the line starts at the intersec-tion of a certain parallel of latitude with the center of the channel of the with the center of the channel of the Colorado River, and runs in a north-westerly direction straight to the intersection of the thirty-ninth parallel of latitude with the 120th meridian. This intersection happens to be about the center of Lake Tahoe, and the distance of this diagonal line between the two designated intersections is 406 miles. From the point in Lake Tahoe described the boundary is the 120th meridian north to the Oregon line. This is easy enough to tell, but civil engineers have been very unlucky at trying to show where the line is in the jumbled up country through which it runs, although they have earned a good deal of money at hard and bot work in a tough country.

Prior to 1870 several terminal points Prior to 1870 several terminal points and fragmentary surveys of the line had been made, and the last attempt to establish the boundary had been made by an engineer named Majors. The need of having the limits of each State settled was felt in both California and Nevada, and in 1872 Congress appropriated $41,000 to have the boundary line located and monuments set up. A. W. Von Schmidt was appointed United States commissioner to do the work, and he completed it in 1872 or 1878. In 1871 Prof. George Davidson of the Coast and Geodetic Survey established very minutely the latitude and longitude of a point at Verdi, on the Central Pacific road, and this Von Schmidt is said in reports to have taken as a start-

Pacific road, and this Von Schmidt is said in reports to have taken as a starting point to work from.

For ten years Von Schmidt's boundary was accepted as final and correct. In 1881 W. H. Hall, then the State Engineer, in the process of making a map of the State discovered that at Lake Taboe, the lamd survey lines did not establish a geometrical position of the State boundary line corresponding with that required by law. The two did not agree and one was wrong, He concluded that the boundary survey was wrong, and that it should run a mile farther east in what was supposed to farther east in what was supposed to be Nevada. Hall and the Surveyor-General both called the attention of the General both catted the attention of the Legislature to the matter in their offi-cial reports, and kept on mentioning it, but the Legislature did nothing about it but the Legislature did nothing about it for years.

It might have been neglected yet if Cyrus Coleman of Alpine county had not bestirred himself to get a strip of the Carson Valley and other territory in his county where it belonged. Through his efforts mainly the Legislature in 1888 appropriated $5000 for an examination of the boundary line by the Surveyor-General. C. E. Grunsky and William Minto were appointed in 1888 to do, the work, By a system of triangulation between Mount Lola to the north of Tahoe and Mount Redtop to the south, the latitude and longitude of which were minutely established, they found that the monument placed on the shore of the lake by Von Schmidt was three-fourths of a mile too far west, and that the indicated intersection of the thirty-ninth parallel and the was three-fourths of a mile too far west, and that the indicated intersection of the thirty-ninth parallel and the 120th meridian was a mile too far west. The boundary line being diagonal, the strip lost was about half a mile wide. Minto traced the line fifteen miles across the mountains into Carson Valley, and found that the same error continued. Grunsky and Minto also reported that their observations indicated that the boundary line north from Lake Tahoe was one-fourth of a mile out of the way. Nothing further has been done about this error, and the Congressional appropriation does not concern this line. How the errors were made has not been officially explained. Officers of the Coast and Geodetic Survey took the trouble to verify Davidson's location at Verdi in 1871, and found it to be absolutely correct.

William Minto also spent some time at the other end of the line, where it is supposed to stop in the Colorado River near Needles. Imaginary lines and points were mixed up down there, too, and the Colossus of Rhodes could not have straddled the State line with any degree of certainty. The intersection of the prescribed parallel and river channel had been located years before, but when Mr. Minto got there the river had gone visiting into Arizona, three of the prescribed parallel and river channel had been located years before, but when Mr. Minto got there the river had gone visiting into Arizona, three miles away. He scratched his head over the question whether California ought to follow the fickle river in its wanderings eastward, but finally decided to make his calculations on the assumption that the important point of intersection should be in the old channel of the river as originally established. In the year before the Coast and Geodetic Survey had determined for the benefit of the State the latitude and longitude of a point at Fort Mojave near Needles, and this was of great assistance. There has always been supposed to be a monument on the river bank indicating the terminus of the original California boundary. Four or five years ago the iron post was washed into the river and some enterprising citizen fished it out and set it up again a little further back. Again the high bank was eaten away and it splashed into the water. Then a resident of Needles named Salisbury went out with men and mules, dug a road down the bank and hauled the monument up. He had sense enough to plant it off somewhere where the river would never get it again. Then he put in his bill at Sacramento. He saved the iron, but it wouldn't do a boundary locator mach good.

This new survey will be done by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey through officials detailed by the superintendent at Washington: A complete survey of the line will be made and Von Schmidt's row of monuments will be reset wherever they are out of the way. It is supposed that the error continues through most of the 406 miles. This appropriation was largely due to the persistent efforts of Cyrus Coleman, who still wants Afpline county to have and tax its own.

California has never had any difficulty over her western boundary, but on all other sides she has had trouble in getting fitted. In 1868 it was discovered that the Oregon line was half a mile out of the way, and then a few years ago an error of three miles was discovered near Yuma.

DR. WONG.

713 South Main Street, - - - Los Angeles, California.

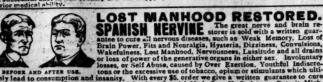

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROFESSIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESS PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and curative powers.

It has long been customary among the Chinese people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if alter having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the present as a token of addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physicians present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the protongation of his best present as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the protongation of his present consists usually of a broad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average Singlish scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his frigends.
It is a motto which highly compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the discase which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful ones in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

CRIME AND CRIMINALS. The Police Looking up a Disgusting

Adultery Case.

Family for a Negro—Bedwell, the Bogus Check Operator, Finally Convicted— Youthful Burglars-Notes.

One of the most disgusting adultery cases that has been brought to light for some time past is now being worked up by the police detectives. A few days ago an honest, hard-working mechanic asked a detective to assist him in rescuago an honest, hard-working mechanic asked a detective to assist him in resquing his wife back from a life of shame. According to the heart-broken man's story, his wife took up with a negro and the two secured lodgings on New High street, where they have been living in adultery ever since.

The negro is a "mac" and forces the woman to earn a living for him. She is the mother of a ten-year-old girl, whom she has deserted. The fallen woman's parents, who are strict Christians, live in this city and have done all in their power to induce their daughter to return to her husband and child, but she is determined to follow a life of shame, and up to date no one has been able to do anything with her.

Her husband is very anxious to have her arrested for adultery and the District Attorney was consulted yesterday, but up to a late hour last night no warrant had been issued, but it is certain that both she and the negro will be arrested as soon as the detectives work up sufficient evidence.

Criminal Notes.

and a o'clock yesterday arternoon a bad man from Arizona or the wilds of Texas took a contract to drink all the bug juice in a saloon at the corner of First and Alameda streets. As soon as his courage reached fighting heat he whipped out a big six-shooter and started in on the barkeeper, but before he could shoot a bystander jumped in and disarmed him and the bad man was marched to the central station by Officers Holleran and Glaze where he was locked up.

J. F. Bedwell, the bogus check flend, was before Police Justice Austin yesterday on two charges. A few days ago he passed a $2 check on S. W. Luitweller and also one for the same amount on W. S. Allen, the furniture man. Both checks were on the University Bank, and when they were presented for collection it was learned that Bedwell never had any money in the bank. During the trial the bank people testified that Bedwell has turned out several hundred of these small checks and as the boys have done considerable work of this kind of late.

Police Justice Austin fined the old Mexican woman, Mrs. Suarez, who was tried the day before on a charge of disturbing the peace of her neighbors, $15. The old woman is of the noisy drunk type and her neighbors are anxious to get rid of her.

George Blattner, the lame shoemaker, was tried in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of assaulting a Mrs. Turney, on East First street. The shoemaker sent a drunken man to her house and she went on the war path, and he struck her when she gave him a tongue-lashing. The man was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $8.

There was a lone drunk in the Police Court yesterday, and after giving him a lecture the Court told him to take a walk and never show up again.

mony, although short, was singularly impressive.

After building a bondre in honor of the occasion, the party adjourned to the camp, which presented a very festive appearance, Chinese lanterns adding light and color to the scene. The supper table of the bridal couple was decorated with mountain laurel and wild forget-me-nots. The center piece was of colored grasses and ferns. The evening was spent in singing songs and was closed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Phillips and the singing of the doxology, in which all joined. A few hours later the silence of the night was broken by the sweet voices of serenaders, who to the accompaniment of a French harp, banjo, dinner-bell and triangle and the sound of the sighing pines, sang "Way down upon the Suwance River," and other songs of long ago. The memory of the first wedding on Mt. Wilson will always be a pleasant one to all who were fortunate enough to be present.

The Salvation Army Dedicates Its New Barracks.

The Success of the Coming Fair is Assured Items of Interest Happening in the Vicinity of Santa Ana-Per-sonal and General.

venes early in September, and it is highly probable that the Mexican will be given a speedy trial.

There is no doubt but that his plea will be self-defense, and that on this ground he will make his fight for life and liberty. A summing up of the evidence as brought out in the preliminary hearing shows but little positive testimony bearing on the killing, and as there were no eye-witnesses to the homicide the evidence is, of course, all circumstantial.

The fact that Torres had had words with McKelvey about the poll tax money; the fact that the Mexican woman heard them quarrelling, that she knew Torres went to the barn with the murdered man, that she heard the blows, and that Torres fled, are all points going to prove him guilty of murder. The position in which the body was found would indicate that the blow was struck while the murdered man had is back toward the murderer. All these points taken together make a strong chain of circumstantial evidence tending to prove Torres guilty of a most diabolical, cold-blooded murder.

There seems to be no doubt but that the accused man has many friends among the Mexicans in this locality, and it is likely that they will assist him in the trial. The main witness for the prosecution is a Mexican woman, and it is probable that every effort will be made to weaken and break down her testimony.

The people of Santa Ana have acted in a manner highly creditable to them in this matter. Torres is in no way superior to an Indian, and he crushed the life out of a man respected by all who knew him, and a man who had a kind heart and was easy to get along with. Our people believe that in a court of justice he will get the punishment upon a scaffold, and sconditor.

THE SOUTHREL-KILLER Oilas, the man engaged in killing squir rels on the San Joaquin ranch, near town has worked over 7000 acres of the ranct has worked over 7000 acres of the ranch and says he has the pesky rodents entirely exterminated in the part he has been working on. He expects to work several weeks yet on this ranch, as he has nearly 20,000 acres of land to kill the squirrels off. It may not be generally known how destructive these little animals are, but some of the tenants on the San Joaquin ranch estimate that one-fourth of the grain crop was destroyed by them this season, No remedy has yet been found to successfully eradicate them, and farmers are awaiting with interest the outcome of Mr. Olias's work. He uses poisoned wheat and seems to be meeting with great success, claiming to kill 95 out of every 100 squirrels. The cost per acre is about 25 cents, but if he succeeds in ridding the country of these troublesome shabilitants the money will have been well spent.

RARRACKS DEDICATED.

The Salvation Army was out in all its glory last night, with banners flying and drums beating. The new barracks in the Blee Block were formally dedicated to the Lord at the meeting by a grand "house warming," in which ice cream and a collection of silver played the principle part, when the drums and tambourines were not being played. The captain said Santa Ananeeded an awakening, and the way he pounded on the big drum seem to prove that he was doing his best to arouse them from their slumbers. Even the Democratic party must have been awakened. However, the services were held in a truly fitting style from a Salvation Army point of view, and the new barracks have been dedicated to the service of God. If the army does not do any good it certainly does not be hear a good, hearty "Amen" once in a while on our street corners. even if it does come from the same source every time.

THE COMING FAIR. BARRACES DEDICATED.

THE COMING FAIR,
The third annual fair of the Orange grand success, and a large attendance is expected.

Of course the great drawing card will be the McKinney-Silkwood race, which will be held on Friday, the day before the close of the fair. Both horses are moving along splendidly, Silkwood showing a mile in 2:14 the other day. It is believed by many that the winner of this race will have to go better than 2:11, and so a deal of interest and a pile of money is at stake on the outcome of the trot. We, of Santa Ana, have every confidence in Silkwood, believing he will draw the winning colors.

Many speedy horses are in training at the track, which is now in the best of condition, and some fine records will be made. The exhibits will be far superfor to those of former years, and all in all the fair will be one of great credit to Orange county.

viewed and said that he considered the proposed raise an injustice. The assessment had been very carefully made, and the property assessed at its full cash value as contemplated by law. The publication sent out from the State board was, he said, misleading from the fact that it stated that "the assessment of Los Angeles was increased 15 per cent. last year, and the assessment is now $8,000,000 less than it was after the raise." This is a flagrant error of fact, as will be seen by the following with people and improvements are In the case of the Southern Pacific for instance, the assessment for 1890 in Los Angeles county was $1,980,887. In 1891 it was $1,885,806, a reduction of $95,231 from 1890. In 1892 it is $1.819,963, a reduction from 1891 of $1,819,963. a reduction from 1891 of $15,643, the total decrease for two years being $110,870.

In the case of the Southern California Railroad, however, a different state of affairs prevails. The assessment of this road in Los Angeles county in 1890 was $422,578. In 1892 it was $440,-185, an increase over 1890 of $19,607. In 1892 it has jumped up to $501,810, an increase over 1891 of $61,625, or a total for the two years of $81,232.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Plaza, North Main street, a public test will be made of the "Lightning" hose coupler, an invention from Sapta Ana.

more amusement of the side-splitting variety yesterday afternoon for more than three hours than will be likely to be seen here again for many a day.

The exhibition was a sort of combination baseball and football game, and although it was a serious matter with the players and the umpire, it was one continual round of pleasure to the 500 spectators, and at least 150 of them will talk in whispers for a couple of days, as a result of loud and prolonged laughing, cheering, yelling and general hilarity over the ludicrous exhibitions which were crowded in one upon the other with remarkable frequency. When the boys tired of booting the ball they would stop long enough to kick at the umpire, who was once carried bodily from the field by infuriated players, but he defied the wrath of the mob, hurled defiance at the kickers and umpired out the string amid the cheers of the multitude and frequent large chunks of respect from the booters.

Ten hot and exciting innings were required to decide the battle, which was finally won by Billy Edwards's glugery band of fast finishers by a score of 17 to 16. For a time it looked as though the other fellows were going to have it all their own way, the score standing 13 to 5 in their favor at the fifth inning. Then it was that Capt. Edwards performed a great piece of generalship, such as would have done credit to Col. Robinson, Comisky or Anson, by substituting a new battery and putting Manchester on second base. The "Never-sweats" then began to gain on their competitors, the score standing 15 to 15 at the end of the ninth. In the tenth No. 2 worked two men around by dint of the most dashing sort of work, while the best No. 3 could do was to chalk up one run, on a home run drive by Billy Rich, who put up a remarkable game all the way through. Lowry. Edwards and Manchester saved the game, the first by good pitching and good generalship. They were ably assisted by Ed Webster, whose work on the coaching lines was flery and persunsive.

Blegance, convenience and beauty have been our objects, and we are rapidly attaining them. Our old friends don't know us. They wander into our store and ask, "Is this the Busy Bee?" Yes, it is; it is the same Busy Bee, hard at work serving up bargains that tickle the public and cause competition to wonder where we got our goods. Well, here's a little starter for an opener.
